COWBOY ACTION SHOOTING WITH THE COWFORD REGULATORS

by Dakota Lil aka Vivian Allen-Harris

For all you "wanna be" cowboys, you need to come and try shootin' with us. If you ever played "Cowboys and Indians", or, like me, you idolized Hopalong Cassidy or Roy Rogers, you are destined to be a Cowboy Action Shooter. We generally shoot the third Sunday of the month. (Although in March and April, we had to shoot the fourth Sunday due to scheduling conflicts.) We start shooting around 9 a.m. after a safety meeting. With Cowboy Action Shooting, safety always comes first.

So just what do we do? you ask. We shoot replicas or original guns of the late 1800's, including one or two single action pistols, a lever action rifle and a shotgun, either double barrel, pump or the rare lever action. Calibers range from 32 to 45 long colt, for pistols and rifle, your choice. Shotgun ammo ranges 20 to 12 gauge, again your choice.

And of course the part we love best is dressing up like cowboys and cowgirls. The minimum dress includes jeans, long sleeve western shirt, cowboy boots and a cowboy hat.

Not sure you're ready to shoot? Well we welcome spectators, so come on out and join us.

For more information, contact Deadwood Jake aka Bob Harris, our sheriff at: (904)724-7012 or deadwoodjake@oldwest.zzn.com. Or if you prefer, we have a great website compliments of our webmaster, Fancy Pants aka Mike Raley: <http://users.southeast.net/~ralej/>

P.S. I forgot to mention, we all have an alias name, but then I bet you already figured that one out!!!

All, Fred Robbins successfully pulled it off, and we now have a 3X600 (reduced) match going at Gateway. We only had 8 shooters at this match, but the quality was great and we all had a great time.

A side note to the Dixie Match:

by Marion Estes

After the close of the official the Dixie Match, Jerry Wehrly (He of Many Wonderful Toys) had his Ohio Ordnance Corp semi-auto only BAR (Browning Automatic Rifle) in the rack on the 200 yd line. One of the Marine Pistol Team shooters spotted it, and he disappeared. He reappeared with a couple more team members. Ended up with about ten of the USMC pistol team members generally fondling, drooling over and admiring the "relic" rifle, when Jerry cast the ultimate bait: "Any of you like to shoot this thing?" OHYEAH was the single response. Jerry had a fair amount of 1952 dome-primer .30-06 of Columbian manufacture, and set about loading magazines. The gyrenes immediately asked if they could shoot off the dirt (like God intended), and since they were the only active shooters on the line, they had the line. These fine lads immediately assumed the classical USMC flat-on-the-belly-toes-out hard hold, and proceeded to molest the swinger chicken silhouette target at 200 meters. Some of the Columbian ammo suffered failures to fire, even with strong firing pin strikes, and were dubbed "flinch checker specials". Jerry produced more ammo, including current PMC 150 gr softpoint rounds. The Marines absolutely loved the experience, rotating shooters every three to four rounds. Some of the commentary heard: "This is awesome, why don't we have these for our use now?"; "I will dream of this for the rest of the week"; "This is a MAN's gun, fabulous!"; "This made my entire (gerund) month"; "Amazing, wonderful SAW (squad automatic weapon), got to get one."

Most of the shooters did fairly well with the rifle prone, but one was apparently made for it. He promptly went for the battle-aperture sight, set it for 200 yards, held "a little low" and dinged the chicken four time in a row, with visible detrius cast from the target at each shot. The Marine shooters were cheering at each "THWOK" report as the .30-06 rounds were solidly impacting the chicken. When they were advised the chicken had a real hit area of six inches or so, and the target was made of one inch T-1 steel and mounted on a truck suspension spring, some speculation arose as to the effectiveness of the round. Given that the current M-16 round uses the SS109 62 grain bullet at about 2800 fps, and the .30-06 was specked at using a 150 gr FMJ bullet at approx 2750 from the M-1 Garand, all agreed the BAR was a very handy device for keeping heads down out to 600+ yards, given a happy shooter and someone with a lot of loaded magazines to supply.

Conclusion: the Marines heated the barrel very well, and insisted on providing Jerry with an USMC rifle team sweatshirt. I would have it drycleaned, and mounted in a glass-covered frame. Those young men will probably remember that day for the rest of their lives. Thanks, Jerry, for giving them an opportunity to enjoy firearms they would otherwise never encounter "in real", and giving the sense of history which goes with such adventures.

Editor's comments

I truly don't know what to do about getting you the Muzzleblast in a timely fashion! I got the last issue finished and called the printers on Feb. 25. It was picked up the next day. I received my copy via US Post Office on April 1st. Clearly this is unacceptable. The new plan is to go back to the newsprint version of several years ago. This will eliminate the need for the printer to send out the newsletter for stapling and the need to retrieve it before labeling and sending it to the PO. I'm not sure at this time if we can get a little better method or system to pay the postage. This may also be a hold up. Clearly these is a problem, I will attempt to solve it whenever it becomes clear what to do. In the mean time, the issues will be numbered and not dated. Also on the front page there will be a square that let you know the date the printer was called for pickup.

I will continued to get the Muzzleblast together and to the printer the last week of the month. Thanks for your understanding.

I've spent so time at the range during a couple tournaments held on the silhouette range. Mostly I was cooking to feed the multitudes, however I did engage many of the shooters and their families in some conversation. (I know, not much of a surprise) We have one of the best shooting facilities in the country, and probably the best in the southeast. Many of the folks I talked with were highly impressed and envious of our club. You can be proud.

There is a lot of information in this issue about the recent competitions held at Gateway. Marion has a nice view of the Dixie Matches. The rimfire championship is well described. The Sunshine Classic went off without a hitch. If you would like to see other information in this newsletter, write it! dennis

Comments on the Crawfish

I found these notes of thanks on the Benchrest Central bulletin board. The world will soon know what a fine club we have.

Bill Myers writes

Thank You Gateway!

The Leetown contingent thanks Gateway and the crew who helped things run so smoothly for a very enjoyable Florida state match. Setting that early start on Sunday allowed all of those who had a long trip home to get on the road before it was too late. The food was great, the people warm and friendly and the shooting conditions remain a total mystery.

Bill commented on the way home that all IR 50/50 shooters should begin the season with Gateway in April. Every other match that follows it will seem easier. Our hats are off to the Gateway members for a job well done. Thanks again! Inez, Bill and Paul

Fred S writes

Very good job by Bob & the crew! Good food by Dennis & the crew on their end. Everyone who competed came out A winner just for having been a part of the fellowship that was shared at the range. Hope everyone had A safe trip home & hope to see everyone next year. Fred. S.

Dave S writes

Bob: Pat and I want to thank you for the GREAT shoot that you, and your staff, put on for us.. The food was EXCELLENT, the competition was GREAT and meeting a bunch of old friends made it a very enjoyable weekend..

THANKS AGAIN BOB...

Bob Collins wrutes

This was Great, I really enjoyed my self. Phil and I were shown around Jacksonville by a great vet - Bill Smith - who is not at the bottom of the list any more (I really had a good time learning from him) - great shooting Bill. I knew you could do it. Boy the food was GREAT, I really appreciate how Bob, Don and Bill took care of each and everyone of us. If you ever want to see how a match should be conducted you need to go to Jacksonville.

Two Mississippians are walking toward each other, and one is carrying a sack. When they meet, one says,

"Hey Tommy Ray, whatcha got in th' bag?"

"Jes' some chickens."

"If I guesses how many they is, kin I have one?"

"Shoot, if ya guesses right, I'll give you both of 'em!"

"OK.... Ummmmm... five?"

Jokes instead of a Message from the President

A very prim and proper Southern lady was driving across the Cooper River Bridge in Charleston, SC, one day. As she neared the top of the bridge, she noticed a young man standing near the edge of the bridge getting ready to jump.

She stopped her car, rolled down her window and said, "Please don't jump, think of your Mom and Dad."

He replied, "My Mom and Dad are both dead. I'm gonna jump."

She said, "Well think of your wife and kids."

He replied, "I'm not married and don't have any kids."

She said, "Well, think of Robert E. Lee."

He replied, "Who's Robert E. Lee?"

She replied, "Well, just go ahead and jump then, you damn yankee!"

Q.: What do a divorce in Alabama, a tornado in Kansas and a hurricane in Florida have in common?

A.: No matter what, somebody's fixin' to lose a trailer.

A man was driving along the highway and saw a rabbit hopping across the middle of the road. He swerved to avoid hitting the rabbit, but unfortunately, the rabbit jumped in front of the car and was hit.

The driver, being a sensitive man as well as an animal lover, pulled over to the side of the road and got out to see what had become of the rabbit. Much to his dismay, he saw that the rabbit was dead. The driver felt so awful he began to cry.

A blonde woman driving down the highway saw the man crying on the side of the road and pulled over. She stepped out of her car and asked the man what was wrong.

"I feel terrible," he explained. "I accidentally hit this rabbit and killed it."

The blonde told the man not to worry. She knew what to do. She went to her car trunk and pulled out a spray can. She walked over to the limp, dead rabbit, and sprayed the contents of the can onto the rabbit.

Miraculously, the rabbit came to life, jumped up, waved its paw at the two humans and hopped down the road. Fifty feet away the rabbit stopped, turned around, waved at the two again, hopped down the road another 50 feet, turned, waved, and hopped another 50 feet.

The man was astonished. He couldn't figure out what substance could be in the woman's spray can! He ran over to the woman and demanded, "What was in your spray can? What did you spray onto that rabbit?"

The woman turned the can around so that the man could read the label. It said: "Hair Spray - Restores Life to Dead Hair. Adds Permanent Wave."

DIXIE MATCH, 2003, FROM A HIGH POWER PERSPECTIVE

by Marion Estes

This is the second year I volunteered to assist with the Dixie Match, with the only stipulation I would do anything needed other than act as a target frame/holder. I learned a lot, and thank Arvill Budd for his apparently endless patience and vast experience at this game for the information/guidance he provided me. I hope my efforts were at best not a detriment to the overall operation of the match.

One of the first things noted was that the pistol shooters shoot a lot of rounds at a match. I mean a lot of shooting, involving 90 rounds per full match, excluding alibis. Makes me think High Power should offer more 80 round matches as a general course of fire. Not too amazingly, the facial expressions and language of the pistol shooters and rifle shooters were not too different, corresponding to well-placed and not-so-well placed shots.

Illusion destroyed: Historically, pistol shooters were reflected (to me) as being very intense, with no sense of humor or levity. Wrong, entirely wrong. A tremendous amount of friendly banter and light humor was expressed, even among the REALLY serious shooters. One example from a military team shooter on day two: "Gee, I am afraid I left my fundamentals in my pants from yesterday."

Fact: These shooters are quite good. I admire them for being ready to stand on their two back legs and fire a handgun at the distances and time limits imposed for score. I was also surprised to see the "dot" sights and open iron sights shooting in the same class. Perceptive observation: the 1911 .45 ACP pistols seem to be "Commander" length when equipped with the "dot" optic sights and mounts, and come to real dimensions when examined closely between stages.

The various stances, holds, rituals and preparations of the individual shooters reinforced my thinking about the manner in which personal physiology and build affect the "natural point of aim" for each shooter. Some of the things seen do make me curious, though: one shooter made a point of rubbing each cartridge on his rubber mat, which was apparently coated with some form of Teflon or MS2 oil. He eventually suffered a failure-to-load in a rapid fire stage, and when counting the remaining rounds, they were so slippery and coated with lube, I could not hold them in thumb-and-forefinger mode.

Loads vary wildly, also. Most shooters used propellants which left no visible (even under overcast skies) muzzle signature, a few had the "streamers", and a few followed the dictum that muzzle flash should be equal to or greater than the overall length of the firearm itself. OK, good fun.

Hint to the newbie: try to not be the far right line officer. If you get wrangled (or just not quite well enough informed) into that position, you are now also responsible for scoring all the targets on the right-most position, individual and team matches. Big hint: Make sure you have a mentor as experienced as Arvill, and try their patience with repeated requests for plugging and overlays. Ball ammo and the popular Nosler truncated cone jacketed ammunition leave itty-bitty holes surrounded by a spider web of tears, and you cannot trust the carbon ring at all. Plug away. Nobody hit me over the head for being slow, just make sure you are right.

Another High Power Goof: When returning to the firing line, don't get too involved with adding up the scores. There are baffles on the pistol lines. You can not rearrange them with your head. Believe me. Ouch.

The Junior shooters (and military precision parents) worked the kitchen for the event, and were exemplary in the operation. Funny how a bunch of young military shooters responded to "Team Blonde" when the military took a look at the number and quality of match awards taken by the GRPC junior teams.

Match Director J.L. suffered a medical event and was not able to attend for most of the event. The proof is in the pudding, and once the event team was able to "crack her code" the event ran essentially flawlessly. Great proof of good planning and execution. I would love to see this match grow and again become one of the premier events of the Southern Circuit. Who knows, I might even be able to score without adult guidance.

Sunshine Classic • Smallbore Rifle Regional Championship

We had the 17th Sunshine Classic on the 12th and 13th of April. The weather decided to be almost perfect this time around and everyone had a Great Time or so I have been told. We had shooters come from Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Kentucky, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Illinois, Texas and Missouri. All told 88 competitors came. Kathy Winstead won both the Standard &

Hunter Rifle with scores of 76 and 73. Troy Lawton finished 2nd both days with 73 & 68. In the standard rifle Clark Williams came in 3rd with a 67 and Racheal Renniger had a 63 to take 3rd place in the Hunter Rifle. Top prize in the drawing was a Briley 10/22 Rifle which was won by Clark Williams. Other prizes include a Leupoid Scope, a Kowa & Sightron Spotting Scopes, A new barrel from Shelien. I want to thank some of the people that helped to make the match run as smooth as it did, Roger Bump for calling the line, Ed Jones, Barb Senbertrand, David McLemore with the stats, Grit Preston for doing the Bar-B-Que, and the 4 H Club for the target setting and running the Kitchen. Dennis Glasscock for trophies, The Wall Street for the food. Thanks Everyone and hope to see everyone next year.

The "Crawfish"- April 5th and 6th, 2003

by Bob Pekaar

What weather and great shooting!! The match was supposed to begin on Friday afternoon with practice; it started on Thursday, and by Friday, the line was full in the morning and it was a beautiful day—hit 85 degrees with a clear sky that lasted till the match ended on Sunday. Friday was a forgiving day and reassured most shooters of good scores. On Saturday morning, by match time the winds were blowing from 9 o'clock and were brisk. I think this really had a psychological effect on the sporter relay. The winds were constant and fairly predictable. James Messer showed no fear here though and shot a 244; on his tail were 2 locals (one with my old gun- don't ya hate that). When the 10.5 rolled around, the shooters realized "the wind was their friend"- Harry "Tiger" Deneen got his 250 with Fred Sears on his tail with a 249. It was a sight to see. I think Fred's a bit competitive as he got us all in the 13.5 and took the 2 gun agg. Bill Schertz and Keith Lovan just missed it by the X count. James Messer got the 3 gun agg and the Eley's Director chair—good shootin' James. With the day done, we followed Friday night's fish fry with the "Crawfish" and barbecue dinner. It was great.

Daylight Savings kicked in for Sunday. It was a shooter's nightmare. At 8 AM there were no flag tails moving for an hour. A tossed cigarette showed smoke drifting at 45 degrees to the left (not a recommendation to smoke, just an observation). Inez Myers knew what she was doing from one of our worst bench positions and trounced us with a 246 12X and Harry read her mind. Fred Sears was pumped up and well rested. When the winds kicked in, he shot a 250 20X in the 10.5; a back-to-back try almost was achieved- a 249 in the 13.5 meters. In the agg's, the Collins brothers from Georgia were gaterin' wood and had to leave some Eley here to make room in their vehicle.

Our Team Action contest saw the Turbo's taking the 2 gun the first day by a margin of 0.25 points over the 40 X team. The Turbo team won the 4 gun agg over the Suhl's by 1.46 points (shooter averages per team). This was fun- not a scientific study and it did provoke some good, friendly competition.

Many thanks to the competitors for their enthusiasm for the shoot and for those that help make it a success.

Tournament Schedule

The schedule shows the normal dates for the regular matches shot at Gateway. Clip it out and post it on the refrigerator for future reference.

The listings should be good for each month of 2003. For example, a listing of "1st Sunday" means the first Sunday of each month, unless an exception is listed below. The calendar posted in the office is OFFICIAL and may supersede this list. Lloyd Watkins is the club's Chief Instructor and is responsible for all schedules.

Variations in this schedule will be listed in each issue of the Muzzleblast.

John Says

It's about time you learned to pickup after yourselves. There are trash cans all over the place. Take a minute to deposit your trash in these containers. Your club spends good money to pickup after some of you
